

Change the world with a gift: giving back

It's that time of year when we all think about what to give the people who matter most to us. It's always a last minute thing and always a struggle for most. According to Consumer Report, 75 percent of all retail store gift buying takes place on the final three days before Christmas. And so, if you are like everyone else in Los Angeles, don't worry, the Los Angeles Blade has you covered. Here's our comprehensive holiday gift guide"
